

Spring Valley Water Board Member Up For Re-election

With an election of directors in Spring Valley and La Mesa scheduled in the Helix Irrigation District on Feb. 6, the final day for the registration of new voters or those who have transferred in to the district is Friday, Dec. 14. Mrs. Margaret Penry, board secretary announced.

Persons registered for the general election held last month, who have not moved, need not register, she said.

The terms of R. M. Levy, chairman of the board, and Robert Rundell are scheduled to end in February. Levy has represented the La Mesa division in the district since 1928 and Rundell has represented Spring Valley since 1953. Both are expected to file for re-election.

Mrs. Penry said that the deadline for filing nomination petitions is January 2. They must be filed in the district office on Spring Street in La Mesa, she said.

There will be no election in the El Cajon, Lemon Grove and Grossmont divisions at this time, Mrs. Penry said.

Work Started on Mt. Miguel High School

Work has already started on the Mt. Miguel High School by O. L. Carpenter, Lemon Grove contractor who acquired the job with a low bid of $1,703,010.

The school, on Sweetwater near Jamacha Road, will be completed in the fall of 1957, Carpenter said. The contractor is presently placing re-inforcing steel preparatory to pouring concrete, he said. Grading, paving and storm drainage work were completed last week by a separate contract.

Carpenter's bid was $76,000 lower than the next higher bidder and one-third million dollars lower than the highest.

WHEEL CHAIR SENATOR

It has been kept confidential for weeks, but one of the leading Democratic senators will have to appear on the Hill for reorganization in January in a wheel chair.

He is Matthew Neely of West Virginia. Neely fractured his hip last month and the accident has been kept secret by attendants at the Bethesda Naval Hospital where he is confined.

Because of the thin margin of Democratic control in the U. S. Senate, Neely is determined to be at the reorganization session at any cost. The senator will probably return to the hospital after his wheel-chair appearance.

Informed White House sources told this department that President Eisenhower has assured Stassen he wants the Minnesotan to stay at his Cabinet-ranked post.

474 Pheasants—One Hunter Shot At Fanita Ranch

Well, boys, the pheasant hunting season is over, and if you didn't get your'n it's just too bad. You will have a year to practice your marksmanship before next season opens.

Last Thursday of the season just closed, 474 pheasants and one hunter were shot at Fanita Ranch, known as Santee Preserve.

The hunter, Frank Branfill, 9005 Campo Road, Spring Valley, received two pellet wounds in the head. One hit him in the right temple and the other in the top of the head. He was taken to Grossmont Hospital by R. R. Inks, one of the wardens at Fanita Ranch, and was released after being treated.

Branfill told sheriff's deputies he believes he was shot by a 15-year-old boy standing nearby at the time. The boy has not been located.

A total of 3900 birds were released at Fanita this season.

The fish and game commission reported that 800 hunters have been going to the ranch daily.

Masonic Lodge Installs Henry G. Jensen

Henry G. Jensen, 2379 Bonita Street, Lemon Grove, is being installed this week as master of Lemon Grove Masonic Lodge 736.

Installation is being held Thursday December 13 at the La Mesa Masonic Temple on Date Street at 8 p.m. John B. Dail, immediate past master will be installing officer. Tom Parsons, also a past master will be master of ceremonies.

Jensen has been active in Masonry since 1949 when he joined the John D. Spreckles Lodge in San Diego. He started through the lodge chairs as marshal in 1951 and became junior steward the following year.

He became a charter member of Lemon Grove Lodge and started through the chairs as senior deacon in 1954.

He is vice president of San Diego County Masonic Officers' Association and is the first Lemon Grove member to be so appointed.

He was aboard the Cruiser North Hampton when it was sunk by Japanese torpedoes in 1949.

Jensen was bandmaster of San Diego Naval Training Center from 1945 to 1949 and retired as chief musician.

He is a jointer at the Naval Repair Facility in San Diego. Mr. and Mrs. Jensen are parents of a three year old girl, Milinda Joy.

Approximately 350 persons are expected at the installation.

Acquisition of 3.8 additional acres of land at a cost of $26,250 was approved Monday night by the Lemon Grove Swimming Pool Association.

The land lies directly south of the present 2.5 acre site on Mt. Vernon near Washington. It is owned by Walter J. Denlinger.

V. J. Dorman, legal counsel for the association said that seven acres was more in line with the recreational needs of the community. He pointed out that the new acquisition would give access to the facility from three streets since the new property is bounded by Alton and Washington.

Frenchy Faucher, Swimming Pool Association president said that part of the property is already being leveled for installation of a Little League ball grounds. The project was sponsored by the Lemon Grove Lions Club. (See related photo, page 6).

The Association has already paid $8,500 on the initial site and have a balance of $4,000 due. $500 was paid as option for the purchase on the additional land leaving a balance of $25,750. The association has $2,300 on deposit in a local bank.

Swimming pool association officials are hopeful that some of the money being collected by the county in form of sales tax will be returned for use on the project. This amounts to one cent of the present 4 cent sales tax. Estimates place this total for the Lemon Grove area at $60,000 a year.

Men's Club Gab Fest Gets Nowhere

In the fitful, yawning meeting, the Men's Club, Friday started nowhere, meandered aimlessly and concluded on somewhat the same note it opened on.

During a two hour luncheon and gab-fest at which no program was provided, members admitted that no progress had been made in the eventual governmental make-up plans for the community.

Dr. Frank Gigliotti said that his assignment of getting State College to make Broadway improvement drawings a class project had bogged down temporarily in a hassle for a $20,000.00 appropriation. He said that he and his committee had hopes that the project could be completed in spite of this obstruction.

President Joseph Cannizzaro heard various members complain that the club was covering the same ground over and over while others stated that more information should be collected.

Consensus seemed to be that any form of government that was to be Lemon Grove's must stem from the public at large and should be energized at a public meeting. No plans were forth coming for such a meeting.

The president took under advisement a suggestion that a member of the city of El Cajon's government be asked to talk this week.

Meeting will be held Friday at noon at Michael's as usual.

FIRE CHIEF PLEADS:

Have Christmas Trees Flame Retarded

"Fire across the nation last year killed 23 persons, most of them children on the eve of the Christmas holiday celebration," warned Lemon Grove Fire Chief Harold Hensley.

"All of them were eagerly awaiting the excitement and gifts of Christmas. That these tragedies occur at a joyous holiday season is sadder, but it's sadder that they happen around the Christmas tree itself," he added.

In this light Chief Hensley offers advice and guidance that may make local residents holiday happier . . . and certainly safer. He says, be safe, have the tree flame retarded! Choose a small tree. Cut the trunk slantwise. To open the pores stand it in a tub of water or wet sand. Avoid placing it in a hot spot such as near the fireplace, stove, television or floor furnace. Never use candles for lights . . . use electric lights and wires that bear the UL tag.

Adults are warned that all toys given children should be safe . . . incapable of causing fire, shock or explosion. Toys requiring alcohol, gasoline or carbide lamps should never be given to children. Parents should always supervise play involving electrical toys such as trains, woodburning and the like.

One reason for the danger of trees is that they are filled with pitch and resin which are among the most combustible substances known.

Trees are being flame-retarded by the local fire department at the station on Central Avenue for a cost of 33c per foot.

THINGS DOIN' & BREWIN'

About Civic Center

By DICK HENDERSON

The board of supervisors, all well dressed in new fall suits and rarin' to go, gathered last Tuesday at their regular meeting place and put in a busy morning with "hearings."

Two were scheduled for 10:30, one for 11, one for 11:15—this had four sections—one for 11:30. That was enough for the morning, and at 12:10 Dean Howell asked his secretary to phone for lunch reservations for five or six heavy-eaters, finally took a chance across the highway. We requested a later date to present his proposal for the "donation."

Harder to get the dough this year, hey Wayne?

First hearing was opening of bids for sale of Escondido Union School District bonds, 1956, Series 8, par value $65,000. These school districts—grammar grades—don't seem to need as much dough as do the union HIGH school districts when it comes to the interesting subject. James Kintz et al, Vista Chamber of Commerce, talked to the assembly about getting a piece of the sales tax take. Better get your names in the pot, boys, if you want some of that easy dough. Snuggle up to your supervisor and whisper in his left ear, but do it now!

On With the Dance!

Applications for public dance licenses were granted (approved by the sheriff) to Wagon Wheel 1911 Act.

Resolutions of Intention to Vacate and abandon land in various sections, none in Lemon Grove or Spring Valley.

All except one of the Resolutions to Vacate were approved by planning commission, and one was recommended by department of public works; protest on file.

Afternoon Session

After the boys came back from lunch, fully sozzled, they tackled the 1957 Fiesta donation request for $50,000, but Wayne Daillard was ill with a cold and requested a later date to present his proposal for the "donation."

Another district heard from re sales tax funds. The country boys are waking up to the fact that there will be some loose dough available for worthy projects in a year or so. Sales tax coin is the interesting subject. James Kintz et al, Vista Chamber of Commerce, talked to the assembly about getting a piece of the sales tax take. Area Electricians Must be Certified Under New Ordinance

A better control over odd-job electricians in Lemon Grove, Spring Valley and other unincorporated areas is the basis for a new ordinance which becomes effective January 4, 1957.

The new ordinance will apply only in unincorporated areas however, and will fill the void now existing in local and state codes.

The ordinance provides that county electricians be certified by a board yet to be appointed. Journeyman electricians will be required to have four years experience or the equivalent. They will also have to be certified by a five man board.

FIVE MAN BOARD
The board will include a member of the Board of Supervisors, the chief county building inspector, the chief electrical inspector, an electrical contractor and a journeyman electrician.

Harry O. Shopp, county chief electrical inspector said that property owners will be required to agree in their application that certified electricians will be used. Failure to do so will make both property owner and electrician liable, he said.

"Too many property owners are depending on county inspectors to do the electrical engineering for them," Shopp said.

"This encourages the owner to acquire the services of a man incapable of performing a journeyman job to do a journeyman's work. As a result unsafe and inadequate service is often acquired," he said.

LOCAL ATTITUDE

Sterling Cato, operator of Lemon Grove Electric Inc., local contractors, said that some would be electricians operate in the lower-than $50 contract field. On jobs over $50 a state contractor's license is required. There is no inspection control in the county at present for these operators. Cities have varying requirements on electrician's licenses.

Cato said that a new county electrical code with requirements for increased amperage and more outlets is also in the works. All of this is a sincere effort of county officials to provide safe and adequate service or the property-owner, he said.

Bottom End of Federal To Get Top Dressing

Resurfacing of Federal Boulevard from Wabash Freeway to Euclid Avenue will begin as soon as weather permits next year according to Jake Dekema, District Engineer of the State Division of Highways.

Low bidder for the job was Daley Corporation, who proposes to do the job for $15,294.

Dekema said that the work consisted of resurfacing the existing highway which parallels new freeway construction in the area. Upon the completion of the new freeway, the Federal Boulevard routing will be superseded as a State Highway, but it is expected to carry considerable frontage road traffic.

Although there are no available detours, the motorist should not experience any great amount of delay or confusion during construction. Between the hours of 6:00 a.m. to 8:00 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m., no activity will be allowed which would restrict the flow of traffic. At all other times, the contractor will be obliged to keep at least one twelve foot lane in each direction open to public traffic. Barring adverse weather, the job should be completed sometime during March, Dekema stated.

Traffic Lights to Blink At Broadway & Massachusetts Beginning Next Week

The long-awaited traffic signal at Broadway and Massachusetts will be put into operation "just as soon as the power company installs a meter and the signals can be tested."

That is the official word from Paul Fowler, traffic engineer for the County Road Department.

Lloyd Wall, district manager for the San Diego Gas and Electric Company said Wednesday that the meter was already installed and that "juice" is at the signals.

This means that the signals should be in working order by next week.

Fowler said that the signals will have a built-in electronic brain and will compensate for traffic flow. Auto will actuate a treadle which will count the vehicles and the "green time" will be allocated in ratio to the current traffic volume.

If the flow is twice as heavy on Broadway as on Massachusetts the "go" will stay on accordingly. If traffic flow changes, the signals will make a corresponding change immediately.

No matter which street the signals favor, it will be a welcome Christmas gift to local motorists who have suffered the dangers of that intersection for several years.

Requa Quits Assessor's Post

Harold Requa, chief deputy assessor announced his retirement this week. It will be effective December 31st. He has been associated with the office 21 years.

John McQuilkin, present assessor said that no person had served with greater zeal and sincerity than Requa.

Requa had been named as a possible replacement for Arthur Eddy when he resigned several months ago.

School District Gets $1700 Trailer Tax Reports Netzley

The trustees of Lemon Grove Elementary School this week decided to name members to the proposed L. G. Recreation Commission on a geographic basis.

Each board member will make himself responsible for seeing that the principal and PTA head of each school names two representatives to the commission.

At the Monday night meeting, School Superintendent Byron Netzley gave the board a report on income from trailer dwellers.

For the first time, he said, schools are receiving a direct share of the in-lieu taxes paid by trailer residents. Motor Vehicle Department house trailer fees covering the six months period to June 1, 1956 amounted to $1,733 for the L. G. School District.

Netzley said that 20 percent of school revenues normally comes from local property taxes, 5 percent federal and 75 percent comes from general funds of the state. State funds are made up, generally from sales tax, in which all people share.

Trailer park owners pay property taxes and with the in-lieu trailer registration income being returned, trailer residents are no longer second to renters in sharing a burden of school tax expenses, he said.

Discriminate Against City Dogs; County Dogs Have Extra Month To Pay Dog Tax

Wilbur W. Easton, county tax collector, a very important official in the public eye at this time, informs us that his office has, as one of its functions, the task of collecting dog licenses for the county.

License fees for City of San Diego dogs are due in December, but the country dogs have a month longer, their license tax becoming due in January of each year. Also, Wilbur points out, the county dogs do not have to present a certificate of vaccination, do the city dogs, before a license tag is handed over.

If you live in the country—meaning outside of San Diego city—and have a dog that you cherish, save a couple o' bucks and get Towser a license and put it on his collar, for his protection. This information does not necessarily apply to incorporated cities such as La Mesa and El Cajon.

Asked the difference between a city dog and country dog, Wilbur said he heard of a city dog and a country dog that met on the outskirts of town, and the country dog claimed superiority. The city dog said "How come?" The country dog said, "Well, when we meet, you smell of me and I'll growl!" (D. H.)

Juniors' 'Snow' Ball Termed 'Success'

More than seventy-five couples turned out Friday for the Woman's Club Juniors "Snow" Ball at Singing Hills Country Club according to Mrs. William Miller, club president.

In charge of the event were: Mrs. Carl Piepenbrink and Mrs. Russell Eldridge who said proceeds from the successful affair would go into the club's general fund for philanthropic use. Mrs. Fred Cohenour was in charge of decorations. More than $60 was accumulated from a raffle. Mrs. Lawrence Sozzani was chairman of that event. By some strange mis-arrangement, osculation got mixed in with the sale of raffle tickets and many of the male guests thought they had already acquired the prize before the raffle was run.

Members said there would be another such event scheduled soon... including a dance.

The Dimmer View

By MAX GOODWIN

I got a chuckle out of a very recent state supreme court decision that took some of the responsibility of defending the "people" away from me.

I have stated publicly and in print the same philosophy that many of my brother editors and publishers hold, that a newspaper is the "people's" only defense against government. Now the state supreme court wants in on the act.

This decision which is reported in detail in the current ADVANCE CALIFORNIA REPORTS, a publication in which is printed matters having to do with the state supreme court before the material can wend its way into those voluminous books you see in your attorney's office as it becomes a permanent part of lawmaking records.

The decision has to do with a school building contractor named Guy Mall who was building a school in the city of Taft, California. The city demanded that a building permit involving a $300 fee be taken by the contractor and that he submit to the city building ordinances.

"Not so," cried the contractor. "The state has rigid requirements and the public school system is of statewide supervision and concern and legislative enactments thereon control over attempted regulation by local government units."

"That's the way it is, too," the state supreme court said in effect and by so stating, school buildings are taken away from the various municipal controls.

A prime example of what that means is the junior high to be built on Palm Street. Bart Dunn, assistant county planning director, appeared at a school board meeting to explain why the county planning department demanded the east 40 feet of the school property for a road where no road now exists.

He said that possibly, at some distant date, the county may put a street in which would run along the hillside to the site of the Mt. Miguel high school. He admitted there was no such road contemplated in a master plan... nor was there a master road plan at all for that specific area. He plotted the road 50 feet wide. The school district was required to contribute 80% of it. Adjacent property owners presumably would some day dedicate the remainder.

This is as sorry a deal as we got on School Lane when Golden Avenue School was constructed. The entire road was lopped off school property but it was understood that if and when the property across the street was developed a requirement would be that the amount dedicated for road use would be equalized 50-50. Dunn admitted at this trustee's meeting that the equalization requirements would be dropped because "it would be too costly for the school district to move the metal fence just to gain a 15 foot strip which could be used for nothing except expensive planting."

Planning department foolishness reached an all time high a couple of years ago when Dr. Willis Miller, county planning director, refused to grant a permit for the Swimming Pool Association to hold a jamboree on the junior high school grounds.

He claimed it was a "carnival" and we had it listed as such. He said no "carnival" would ever get his approval in that area. He refused to budget from his arbitrary position despite the fact that this was the same type of group which makes up the PTAs putting on exactly the same kind of money raising affairs... and the entire income was headed into a pool project for the youth of our community. A perfect example of too much government!

In the matter of school construction, trustees have been made to acquire a "special use" permit in which the planning department would impose conditions. In one instance the planning department demanding planting shrubbery at the Education Center for "screening" purposes. The building is atop a terrace at the base of which the planners wanted the shrubbery. The plants would have to grow 15 feet tall before they started screening.

In the matter of the 18 acre junior high school site on Palm, strips the planning department demanded amounted to 1.5 acres or nearly 10% of the total site. It cost Lemon Grove taxpayers $8,000 for the 1 1/2 acres involved.

Until the recent supreme court case there was no case which gave the answer to the matter of the conflict which often exists between state and local government so local trustees had to operate on the basis that municipalities had jurisdiction.

As welcome as this decision is, I still hope this governmental control doesn't change to the extreme that the school board becomes the local planning and building department in spite of the fact that there are some mighty capable fellows on the board.

Grove Students in Speech and Declamation Tournament

Approximately 40 Helix High School students will represent Helix in the county-wide Speech and Declamation Tournament to be held at San Diego State College December 6, 7 and 8, according to Mrs. Dorothe Bonsignore and Donald Tarr, advisers.

The students were selected from the drama and speech classes. Lemon Grove students who will represent the Helix drama department in humorous and dramatic declamation are Robert Clarno, Nina Cornelius and Grace Weaver. Nina Cornelius and Ed Walker were trophy winners last year.

Awards will be given in these divisions: Debate, poetry, interpretation, impromptu, extemporaneous, oratorical declamation, dramatic declamation, humorous declamation, original oratory and radio.

County Supervisors Reaffirm Sales Tax Revenue Allotments

The supervisors last week affirmed their intent to allot all of the one cent increase in sales taxes collected in unincorporated areas in the county to the area where it is collected.

The one cent sales tax was adopted—added to the state imposed three cent tax already being collected—and the board announced, when the tax went into collection October 1, that the money would be spent in the sections of the unincorporated areas where it was collected. Revenues collected in the ten incorporated cities is retained by them. The state is getting its three cents promptly.

Board chairman Austin said the supervisors will not appropriate any sales tax funds until next July, when the 1957-58 fiscal year opens. He asked the various community groups to present lists of requests for projects before the new budget is adopted next spring.

Representatives of various communities in the northern part of the county appeared and spoke for a share of the collections. Byron Netzel spoke for Lemon Grove, and Curtis Price dipped in his spoon in behalf of Fallbrook.

No dough will be available till next July. In the interim, the different groups can consolidate their projects and tell the board their desires. There will have to be unity before presenting their plans for spending the dough—D. H.

The first such dinner of its kind given by the parishioners of St. Sophia, it was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Vincent Petricola of Casa de Oro. About 400 dinners were served.

Msgr. Richard Daniels, Father of the new church, who attended the dinner, said he will soon make public where the new church will be located.

Committee Formed to Check Objectional Comic Books

After all the talk about objectional comic books it seemed as though the subject had been dropped. Then a few weeks ago the County Coordinating Councils started the ball rolling again. A committee was appointed with Mrs. Enola Rickey as chairman.

A recent report from Mrs. Rickey indicated that there is still a large variety of monthly magazines featuring sex and crime being sold on the news stands.

Mrs. Rickey on a recent trip to the interior of Mexico took occasion to check the news stands for evidence of pornographic literature being sold. She was pleasantly surprised to find such literature at a minimum.

Mrs. Rickey makes the observation that it is apparently only in the border towns where patronage of citizens of the United States can be expected, that large quantities of pornographic literature are offered for sale.

Those on the committee with Mrs. Rickey are Charlotte Barbeau, PTA representative; Mrs. J. A. Hegerle, Federated Women's Club representative; Eddie Wiegler, probation department representative; Lt. Ralph Lukehart, juvenile department of the San Diego City Police Department representative; Mrs. Max J. Breitenbach, city social service committee representative; Capt. Harris Hawe, district chaplain of the Eleventh Naval District; Mrs. La-Ome Chapley, Council of Church Women representative; Mrs. Carl E. Lengyel, Catholic organizations representative.

Members of local coordinating councils and other groups are urged to check the stores and news stands in their areas and the shepherd is highlighted in a selection taken from the Apostle John's Gospel. The Master declares, "I am the door; by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture. . . . I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine" (10:9, 14.)

Suckling Pig to be Given To Cafe Goers

A Pig-n-macaroni buffet, served George (Matrovich style (which is something to behold!) will be the piece d' resistance Saturday, December 22nd at the Spring Valley Cafe, 9034 Campo Road. G. Medin and George Matrovich, co-owners claim that the special will be served on a pitch-till-you-win and no-charge-for-eating basis.

The pig-n-macaroni buffet is actually a suckling pig with a big red apple stuck in his mouth, roasted to a succulent tenderness. You take big tender pieces of the young porkers, smother it with macaroni . . . well, you get the idea.

Owners of the cafe say they are sacrificing the young pig in the interest of getting a good-fellowship group going in the place.

$5 PAID FOR MOTEL ROOM COSTS OWNER $244 IN FURNISHINGS

Down in Gawgia a man checked into a motel, paid for his room and checked out at midnight without disturbing the proprietor, taking with him a table model tv set, four sheets, two bedspreads, two lamps, two blankets, four towels, a bath cloth, a small rug, four pillows and four pillow cases. The motel manager valued the customer's take at $244.75.

Fred Boyer, 30 Year School Board Member, Honored With Dinner

Fred A. Boyer, veteran educator with 50 years experience, was honored Dec. 3 at a retirement dinner in El Cajon Valley High School, given by the San Diego Association of County School Administrators. He was made a life member of that group, also the San Diego School Boards Association.

Boyer, who helped build the first school where he taught (in Oklahoma), came to San Diego in 1913. He taught one year in National City, was principal at Lemon Grove from 1914 to 1917, then was principal at Escondido for a year.

In 1918 Boyer was hired by Coronado School District and served as elementary school superintendent, later as assistant superintendent of the unified school district. He retired in 1943. (Incidentally, this reporter, then publisher of The Coronado Strand, now the Journal—helped locate Fred Boyer in his home in Coronado by showing the property and introducing him to the seller.)

Boyer formerly owned a citrus ranch near Escondido, sold it for cash a week before the "big freeze." He must have a little cat blood in his veins, for he always lands on both feet.

We trust that Fred Boyer, 70 next June, will enjoy his retirement years to the full, and many of 'em.—D. H.

Aid to Hungary Campaign Starts at Helix High

"Help Helix Help Hungary" is the slogan that is being used by Helix High School students in their campaign to help the people of Hungary in their fight for freedom.

The campaign will run through December 10, according to Bob Jenney, ASB President.

On Thursday night, members of the student body will go from door to door in the area soliciting aid. All money will go to CARE and used by that organization to their discretion.

Helix is the first high school in Southern California to get on this aid to Hungary bandwagon.

In addition to donations being made at the school by the students, merchants in the area will have collection containers so that the people of this area can contribute while they shop.

When the door to door campaign is conducted, eight Helix service clubs will join in the task. They are: Key Club, La Convertables, Bonnie Lassies, Min Tidiers, Duchesses, Heatherettes, Helix Hi-Y, and Y-Teens.

Membership Increasing In Newcomers Club

Newcomers to Lemon Grove who changed their registration to Lemon Grove in November are considering formation of a Newcomers Club. Present headquarters of the proposed organization is at REVIEW office, but larger quarters will be needed before many weeks, if the influx continues.

Latest newcomers to register are:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eaton, 8400 Roy Street. Mr. Eaton is a chief in Uncle Sam's Navy, in training division. The Eatons have owned their home for two months, subscribed for The REVIEW, and looks like they are here to stay. They have two boys, Robert, 12 and Daniel, 9, who are adding to the daily attendance record for Lemon Grove School District and increasing the revenue from state school funds accordingly. You know, of course, that each scholar in the district who attends classes each day, brings in more state money, so insist on your offspring going to school on time each and every school day. The Eatons moved here from 1050 Fairhaven, San Diego. A phone has been applied for. They have two cars, one for Papa Eaton. The other is at Mrs. Eaton's disposal.

Another couple, with one 13-year-old boy for the school district, is Mr. and Mrs. John Stockman, 8425 Roy Street, who have owned their own home one day. The Stockmans moved to L. G. from Spring Valley, "have been subscribers to Spring Valley BULLETIN, and are quite satisfied." They have a '50 Chevy and a '53 Buick, have applied for a phone, and we are glad they moved into Lemon Grove. They can still visit friends over in Spring Valley. Mr. Stockman is connected with motion pictures in some capacity.

We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Powell, who are renting the home at 7070 Massachusetts Avenue. They come from Kansas, drive a '56 car, children all married. Mr. Powell is retired, and we think the Powells made a wise choice in selecting Lemon Grove as a home site. We betcha they buy a home and stay here for keeps. Hope so, anyway.

Spring Valley Newcomers

Mr. and Mrs. James Cook have bought the home at 2745 Sweetwater, Spring Valley. Owned it three days, according to our reporter. They moved from 8431 Glencoe, Spring Valley, have a boy William, 11, and a girl Carleen, 6, both going to school. They have subscribed for The BULLETIN and applied for a phone.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pryntol—he is stationed at Naval Training Center—bought their home at 8434 Roy Street two weeks ago.

Came here from Middletown, Rhode Island, brought three girls, Kathy, 2, Margaret, 8 and Mary 9, to boost the school attendance. Their phone is HO 9-5740, in case you know anybody in "Little Rhody" and want to welcome the Pryntols to our midst. Why don't you do that, right now?

Some smart realstate is sure sellin' houses out in Spring Valley. Here's another family that has been living at 2640 Covington Road who has moved to 8433 Roy Street. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mann have bought the Roy Street place—owned it one day, according to report. They have two girls, 7 and 2 respectively, and have subscribed for The BULLETIN. Looks like they're gonna stay in Spring Valley and have the kids grow up with the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McCollough bought the home at 3400 Glen Street, Spring Valley, moving from 4247 Texas Street, S. D. Mr. McCollough is retired, they have a boy, John, 10, and a girl, Patricia, 13, both going to school. They drive a '53 Chevy and their phone is HO 3-3732.

Mr. and Mrs. James Goodwin, 10459 Don Pico St., Spring Valley, have owned their home about a month. They came to their new location from 2953 Grape St., San Diego, bringing two customers for Spring Valley-La Mesa school attendance record, in the persons of two boys, 18 and 9 years, and a girl, 14 years of age. The report fails to show if all three kids go to school, so you can make that two or three for the attendance record. Their telephone is HO 6-6158, but I read it 6150 and a pleasant voiced lady answered and said "No Goodwins here," so then I saw my error and tried 6158, but got no answer. Just wanted to find out if these folks are any relatives of our Max. I hope Mrs. Goodwin will call Max and tell him where the family comes from. We think the Goodwins are pretty fine folks.

Another Spring Valley family has changed their residence, having bought the home of 3424 Glen Drive a month ago, moving from 10509 Challenge. Mr. and Mrs. Molino have two children, Meredith, boy of 9 and May, a girl of two months. May is a little young to include in the attendance record, but she'll come along in due time, we hope. Gosh, we almost forgot to tell you the name of this family, but remembered in time. Mr. Molino is employed at Conair, and they have subscribed to The BULLETIN.

Well, that's six new families for Spring Valley and four for Lemon Grove, and between The REVIEW and The BULLETIN "We cover the area like the sunshine" to quote an expression we tax rolls as of July 1, 1956. (Approved by county counsel.) It cost $6,514.00 to paint the interior of welfare building (What did they use, Jean, gold paint?)

Letter from chairman of the board requesting that a survey be authorized to determine the feasibility and estimate the cost of reclaiming the water used by the county hospital laundry (approximately 250,000 gallons per day) for re-use at the laundry.

Charges of irregularities in assessor's office are to be investigated by General Appraising Co., in cooperation with county counsel, the chief administrative officer and the assessor. These irregularities concern assessments made by Art Eddy, former assessor, who was charged by Raul Laughlin with favoring four firms. These charges brought about the resignation, under fire, of Art Eddy.

Claim in the amount of $235.27, submitted by Kenneth A. Barwick, attorney, for his client, Roy E. Nielsen, for damages allegedly caused to his car by rocks dropped by gravel trucks of the G. B. Grove Co., stating that the county failed to maintain a public county road in safe operating condition. (Roy seems to be having a tough time getting his claim recognized.)

Letter from the governing board of Lemon Grove School District transmitting petition of George E. Barker, et al, requesting that the proceeds of the one cent sales tax collected in that area be used for recreational services and facilities for a community recreation program.

first heard 35 years ago down in Yuma. We have seen it used many times since, in different papers, and they all used Old Sol as a cover.

We want to get acquainted with every newcomer, and if we don't mention any family that has come into the fold lately, please drop us a card, and tell where you came from, be it far or near, how many children and their ages, and any other information you don't want kept secret.—Dick Henderson.

ROY BOTTINI

Butterflies are a pretty blotch of color and fuzz fluttering in the air. But butterflies can also be a pretty sickening feeling in the empty bottom of one's stomach. That's the feeling before each football game by 18-year-old senior Roy Bottini, a beefy Lemon Grove tackle on the championship Helix High School football squad. Five foot nine inch, 200 pound Roy even admits to "heaving" before each gridiron tussle, but quickly adds that "he always feels better." That's obvious since this first string left tackle roars through his opponents from start to finish of every game.

A San Diego native of Quintard Hospital on October 22, 1938, Roy presently resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bottini at 7555 Palm St., Lemon Grove. He has attended Lemon Grove Elementary and Junior High School and is currently finishing up a four year stay at Highlandville. Mr. Bottini is a baker with the misses a housewife.

Four rugged years on the green turf is the major extent of Roy's athletic contributions to Helix's rapidly improving sports department. He has played freshman and JV ball for two years where he was co-captain both years. Two years on the varsity squad has seen Roy play several positions. Last year he was offensive fullback behind Rudy Rudzinski and Ernie Miller and defensive linebacker and guard. This year Roy is both offensive and defensive tackle. A little wrestling winds up his sports section of high school life.

Blond-haired, blue-eyed Roy is a member of the Helix Hi-Y, Lettermen's club and the new campus organization, Brothers of the Spear. He is very interested in the healthy outdoors with camping rating high on his list of hobbies. An easy-mannered, quiet natured lad, Roy wants to attend San Diego Junior College for a year then step up to a major university. Industrial arts is the career being pursued.

One brother and three sisters rounds out the family circle. Brother Bob and sisters Donna and Dorothy all attended San Diego High School and are presently enlarging their own personal families. Sister Kathryn graduated from Helix in '54.

Fellow teammates, whether they are in the backfield or on the line, all hold a lot of respect for this rugged tackle who does more than his share in getting the job done.—B. T.

Ollie Turnbull Is Great-Grand Papa

Have you noticed that proud look on Ollie Turnbull's face lately?

There is a reason for it. Recently Ollie and Minni Turnbull of Spring Valley became great-grandparents, when Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hays of Fallbrook announced the birth of a daughter. The baby weighing seven and one-half pounds was born on December 4th, in a Fallbrook hospital. Mrs. Hays is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull. Ollie is one of the genial advertising managers of the Lemon Grove Review.

Golden Students

Take Journey

To Tijuana School

Last week fourth graders from Mrs. Lockett Palermo's class at Golden Avenue School visited the Lazaro Cardenas Elementary School at Tijuana, Mexico. Accompanied by eight mothers of students here, the students visited the classrooms there and enjoyed a colorful demonstration drill team.

The vice principal of the school, with the help of interpreters, reviewed the history of Mexico for the American boys and girls. As the Lemon Grove children were about to depart at noon, they were escorted to one of the classrooms where seats had been pushed aside, tables set up, and a delicious luncheon served to all. The visitors were impressed with the gracious hospitality of their hosts.

Later in the school year, in recognition of Pan American Day, the fourth grades here will host Mexican students in Lemon Grove.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Shades of 1856? I went to the post office (post office?) today. It had rained somewhat and the sight in front of the office was pitiful. Mud—mud, mud all over the place. Come now, Lemon Grove, we can do better than this—but quick.

The postmaster prevailed upon the contractor who resurfaced Broadway for the state to scrape up the mud and drop in some decomposed granite in the muddy area last week.

The postmaster said the property owner had promised to pave the remaining strip of eleven feet at the shoulder of the road at the time he was to remove the utility pole hazard which is the same unpaved strip. The owner had established Broadway repaving as the time this would be done.

David Sapp, the property owner said that the strip would be oiled before the end of the year, and would be paved early next year.

THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

How do you thank someone for saving the life of a Dear One?

Two boys of the Lemon Grove Fire Department performed that act last Saturday night when J. B. Moranville, my wife's father suffered a heart attack, which in the words of Dr. Alfred Robinson, would probably have been fatal had it not been for the immediate response and swift action of the young men.

To them, saving human life may be just routine, if such a thing could be, but to at least one family, it will be remembered for their dedication and ability at a time when seconds are so all-important.

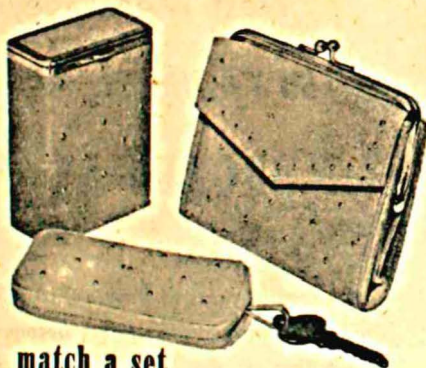

We humbly thank God for men like these.

S. Dewey

The able men were James Sanchez, engineer and Bernard Griggs, firemen of the L.G. Fire Department. The resuscitator, which the men used, was a contribution to the department from the Lemon Grove Lions Club.

The department makes at least two resuscitator calls a month, sometimes more. There had been some talk about another local club supplying the department with its second resuscitator, but the project appears to have been dropped.

Changes in Your Social Security

Part Two

For taxable years after 1955, persons who work for themselves—alone or in partnership—as lawyers, dentists, chiropractors, veterinarians, naturopaths, osteopaths, and optometrists, started building old-age and survivors insurance protection for themselves and their families on the same basis as self-employed persons previously covered by the law.

As long ago as 1948, it was estimated that 140,000 out of the probably 170,000 lawyers in the United States were self-employed. Because of the close relationship between legal practice and fields such as business management, real estate, finance, and politics, many lawyers had moved into other lines of work covered by social security before 1956. A great many of them came under social security as employees of other lawyers; others acquired military wage credits under social security during active service with the armed forces. It is estimated that at least 30 per cent of all presently self-employed lawyers, at one time or another, have accumulated some earnings credits under the old-age and survivors insurance program. To these lawyers, in particular, the extension of coverage is of marked importance. The social security credits they have built up would have steadily declined in benefit value in the years ahead; in the case of many young lawyers, they would eventually have disappeared altogether.

Also brought under social security as of January 1, 1956, are an estimated 78,000 dentists actively engaged in private practice. This protection should be of special importance to a young dentist who is head of a family. Because of the length of time required to complete his professional training, his earning capacity in many cases does not commence as early in life as that of the average non-professional individual. Moreover, in starting his practice, he must furnish his office with expensive equipment and thereafter go through a period of low income before he is able to realize a reasonable return from his practice. If he has a wife and family, he is in need of the survivorship protection social security affords to a young widow and minor children during those years.

For further information regarding these recent social security amendments contact the Social Security Administration district office at 1196 Broadway in San Diego.

May Open Federal Funds Bonanza For Spring Valley

"Bonanza for Towns: Need a new sewage treatment plant? Under a new law, the U. S. will pay up to 30% of cost. Apply through your congressman."

The above item in September issue of Town Journal, page 71, under "Looking Ahead — News That May Matter to Consumers and Business Men," caught my eye. Spring Valley's sewer disposal plant problem flashed, I took the magazine to the boss and he took up the matter with Warren Barney, assistant to Jean Vincenz, department of public works, and learned that we were way behind.

Warren Barney says his department was sent forms by the government agency in charge of this awarding of funds, these forms are being filled out as rapidly as information required is available. Like all government forms, the information required, is voluminous, requires much research. Barney is pressing the matter, has forwarded some of the forms requested, has others coming along.

The State Water Pollution Board is concerned in the matter, besides Uncle Sam's men, but progress is being made, and Warren Barney says Spring Valley is right at the top of the list of recipients of aid.

So Spring Valley stands a good chance of getting federal aid, up to 30%, in solving the expense problem.

When Jim Utt gets back to Washington he will be requested to lend his support. Jim is a good man, got sent back for another two years from this district's vote, so we may expect to get some results.—D. H.

Pruning Avocado Trees Important For Good Crops

Avocado yields may be reduced if excessive pruning is done, according to University of California Farm Advisor Don Gustafson. The real value of pruning avocado trees lies in making other orchard operations easier. In some situations, controlling the size of trees is important. Pruning here would prove advantageous. December is a good month for pruning if little or no fruit is on branches to be removed.

Here are some considerations that might be helpful to guide growers in their pruning program: (1) Frequent or annual heavy pruning results in a smaller tree and reduced yields; (2) Pruning does not increase the yield of fruit; (3) Heavy pruning stimulates vegetative growth at expense of fruiting; (4) Greatest stimulation of growth is nearest cut; (5) The larger the branch removed the greater stimulation to entire tree; (6) Light pruning may be done at any time of the year, but spring pruning gives greater stimulus than later pruning; (7) Late summer or early fall pruning may stimulate growth and make trees more susceptible to frost injury, and (8) pruning of avocados cannot be standardized.

Trick of Home Pickling of Olives Told

This area, being the center of olive growing in San Diego County, there have been many inquiries about their curing. The following recipe is from the University of California agriculture department.

One-Lye Process for Ripe Olives
The fruit chosen for this type of ripe olives should be cherry red. Black-ripe fruit should not be used, as it is likely to become soft when pickled. This process will produce yellow or brown olives.

1. Prepare a solution by weighing out two ounces (about four level tablespoons) of lye per gallon of water. This is easily done by dissolving a 12 ounce can of flake lye (household lye) in 16 gallons of water. Stir the solution until the lye is well dissolved. Use a wooden or stoneware container. Never use an aluminum container, for lye will ruin it, nor a galvanized metal one, as the zinc will make the olives poisonous.

Caution: Have near by a cup of vinegar in which to rinse the hands if the lye solution comes in contact with the skin. There are several other antidotes for lye burns or if some has been swallowed:

1. Administer vinegar, lemon, orange, or other acid fruit juice until lye appears to be neutralized.
2. Administer white of egg or milk by mouth.
3. Do not induce vomiting.
4. Combat shock by placing person affected in reclining position with head lower than body and wrapping with blankets.
5. Call the family physician.
If lye solution has inadvertently been splashed into the eye, flush the eye in a stream of running water, bathe the eye with boric acid solution, and call the family physician.

To get back to the olive pickling:

Cover the olives with the lye solution early in the morning. Place over them a towel or a cloth and draw it tight enough to keep them submerged. Let the olives stand, stirring them every two or three hours until the lye reaches the pits at all points. This condition is judged by cutting sample olives to the pit with a sharp knife at intervals of one or two hours. The flesh should be discolored by the lye. It will usually take 10 to 12 hours for the pits to be reached. If the lye has not reached the pits by bedtime, remove the lye solution and cover the olives with water. Next morning apply a solution of one ounce (about 2 level tablespoons) of lye per gallon of water and let stand until the lye reaches the pits thoroughly.

3. Remove the lye solution and discard it.

4. Rinse the olives twice in cold water, then cover them with cold water. Change the water twice a day until the lye no longer can be tasted in the olives; this usually takes seven or eight days.

5. Now prepare a salt brine of four ounces (about 6½ level tablespoons) of salt per gallon of water. Dissolve the salt thoroughly and cover the olives with the solution. Let this stand for one week. The olives are then ready for use. They should be kept in a cold place.

6. If all the olives are not to be used within a period of two weeks, prepare a brine of eight ounces (about 13 level tablespoons or slightly more than ¾ measuring cup) of salt per gallon of water. Store the olives in this brine for one week. At the end of the week replace the brine with a solution of one pound of salt per gallon of water (20 level tablespoons or about 1½ measuring cups per gallon). Change this, after 10 or 12 days, with a fresh brine of one pound of salt per gallon of water.

Thereafter, until the olives are used, replace the brine with fresh brine of one pound of salt per gallon of water, once a month. When the olives are to be served, soak them overnight in water and use them within three days.

(Caution: If at any time the olives become moldy, or smell bad, or are soft, do not eat or even taste them. They should be discarded.)

HELIX STUDENTS VISIT CAL TECH

Helix Students Play the Stock Market

To interest students more in the stock market and make them more aware of how much the stock market affects our daily lives, at Helix High School the Consumer Economics class is playing the stock market.

According to Merle Cables, Helix teacher, each student is given $10,000 on paper in which to invest in some way that he thinks will increase the amount. Some have invested their money in the savings account and others have invested their money in the stock market.

The students learn to read the stock market reports and try to judge the rise and fall of the prices.

Four Scene Play To Be Given Sunday At Skyline Church

A play in four scenes will be presented Sunday at 7 p.m. in the Skyline Wesleyan Church, 1345 Skyline Drive. "Home at Christmas" is the continuity of the story carried by an old man who is puzzled about Christianity and the purpose of Christmas. He sets out to learn about it by looking in on four different families—all of whom call themselves Christians.

The play is under the direction of youth minister Jerry O'Brien and assistant director Richard Webster. Main parts are taken by Dick Whitted as the Old Man, Vince Breit and Ann Stevenson as Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Connie Butcher and Jan Martenson as the Jones children, Mr. and Mrs. Miller are played by Claudette Rossin and Richard Webster with Carole Brown and Brice Byford playing the Miller children.

Mrs. Smith, a church member who is too busy to bother with church work, is portrayed by Olette Noble, Peggy is played by Anna Lee Harlan and Lorraine and Doris Smith are played by Joana Brown and Cathy Mason, two teenage girls. The climax of the play is a wonderful sight—when the old man finally finds a real Christmas at home. This scene is played by David Spisak and James Lewis as mother and father while their children are played by Roger Graham and Betty Jo Mason.

Lighting and stage settings by Alden Butcher and Toby Foster. The play is open to the public. Christmas carols will be sung by the Junior Wesleyan Youth and the Christ for Me Club.

District Attorney Rules Against Raul Laughlin's Claim for Pay

District Attorney Don Keller, in a legal opinion to the board of supervisors on Tuesday, ruled that Raul Laughlin, deputy assessor for the assessor, who was fired by former Assessor Arthur C. Eddy and out of the county's employ for several months while Art was under investigation by the state's investigators because of the charges brought up by Laughlin as to Eddy's official actions in reducing the assessments of four firms in a letter sent to 3500 voters. This letter was the basis of Laughlin's dismissal, insubordination being charged.

At a hearing recently, Laughlin contended that the civil service commission was the proper body to decide whether he should be paid. That gave pause to the hearing. Now Keller claims that Laughlin did outside work while under dismissal, hence is not entitled to county pay. Nothing was said about Art Eddy's statement, made before Eddy resigned under fire, that he was sorry he had fired Laughlin and asked that he be re-instated, which was done.

A matter of $2163 is involved, and Laughlin has a good lawyer. Some fun in prospect for Keller, after he gets Bill Bonelli back under the gun. Wonder where in Arizona Bill Bonelli is.—D. H.

Expect little and you will rarely be disappointed.

Highlanders Win, Loose Basketball Contests

One for two were the weekend results at Helix High School in their pre-season basketball games. Minus the aid of coach Bob Devine, bed-ridden with pneumonia, B team coach Dave Lefever took over the reins to lead the tall Highlanders past Coronado and drop a two-pointer to a surprisingly tough Pt. Loma "5."

Friday night Helix disposed of Coronado, 44-35, then dropped a Saturday court fight to Pt. Loma, 45-43. The week previous the Highlanders had easily beaten Mission Bay and Mar Vista. The record is three wins and only one loss. Four of Coach Devine's basketballers are among the top six scoring leaders. Paving the scoring route is 6-foot six inch forward Ronnie Mulder with 40 digits. In third spot is guard John Wible, 36 and is sixth spot in center Gail Barsotti also with 36 points. This week's schedule finds Hoover vs. Helix at Grossmont gym and on Saturday it's The S. D. Cavemen vs. Helix, same site.

Other scores saw Hoover defeat St. Augustine, 60-41. The Saints turned right around and defeated Escondido 55-46. San Diego Junior College defeated the San Diego's State JV's, 60-58, Lake Meade Naval Base, 76-73 and Chaffey Junior College, 81-60 but lost to Mt. San Antonio JC, 57-55. The College Aztecs beat MCRD last Tuesday night, 58-55. Whittier easily disposed of poorly playing USD, 81-53. The local Pioneers also dropped a game to Long Beach State, 74-65.

JR. HL. XMAS PAGEANT TO BE HELD TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

Monday evening, executive board members of the Lemon Grove Junior High, P.T.A. met in the home economics room of the school, with Mrs. Chas. Taylor, presiding.

On the agenda for discussion was the matter of dance instruction for the sixth grade classes and the consideration of the presentation of a Christmas basket to a needy family.

Mrs. Taylor reported that a group of junior high students last week attended a Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra concert held at the Russ Auditorium for second grade level students. The trip was made by bus and children attending were accompanied by two teachers and also five mothers.

Announcement was made that the school's Christmas pageant was to be presented Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Military Dependents Medical Care Program Becomes Effective

SAN FRANCISCO (Spcl.) — Dependents of military personnel will have free choice of physician and hospital under the terms of the new "Dependents Medical Care Program" which became effective December 7, Dr. Donald A. Charnock of Los Angeles, president of the California Medical Association, said recently.

In a letter to the association's 14,000 members, Dr. Charnock explained the "Medicare" law which provides medical and surgical services while hospitalized and certain out-of-hospital services for dependents of active military personnel within the United States.

A contract for these services has been negotiated between the Department of Defense and the C.M.A. The California Physicians' Service has been designated the administrative agent to process bills and to make payments direct to physicians with funds collected from the government.

"The contract," Dr. Charnock said, "also provides that physician participation is voluntary and is open to all licensed physicians and surgeons in the state. All members of the C.M.A. have been urged to make their services available through this program."

BEES LIKE TRAFFIC LIGHT

a box and a ladder from a nearby store and coaxed the queen bee and her followers into the makeshift hive. McGhee then transferred the swarm to a hive at his home.

Canada — Artists' Paradise

Nova Scotia's tide is out and a schooner left high and dry on the beach is a perfect subject for this painter's canvas.

The color of the water in glacial-fed Lac Beauvert, "show window" of Jasper Park in the Canadian Rockies, changes with the sky. Here it is a brilliant blue, so calm that the images of surrounding snow-clad peaks are mirrored in its surface. (Below) Mr. and Mrs. Chester Mayer, of Milwaukee, Wis., sketch Perce Rock, off the Gaspé Peninsula of Quebec.

TO EAT your cake and have it, too, is one of mankind's most frustrating problems. However, the artist, professional and amateur alike, has found a solution to this problem by visiting Canada, which thousands from all parts of the United States do each year.

They register the Canada they see on canvas or their favorite basic stock and thereby capture their Canada for all time and for all to see and admire.

Canada, from the rock-bound coasts of Newfoundland and the picturesque Maritime provinces, through the quiet French-Canadian countryside; the woodland and lake country of Ontario, the broad Prairies and the majestic Canadian Rockies to the Pacific-kissed shores of British Columbia, is a veritable artists' paradise.
